C. P. R. CROP REPORT FOR ALBERTA

In Alberta good weather for some days past has enabled farmers on all but the heavy soils to get the land. Things have been drying up rapidly and seeding will be general this week. Farmers are very optimistic due in part to the satisfactory condition of the soil and partly as a result of their better financial standing on account of the good prices realized for the 1925 crop. Requests for farm labor have not been very heavy and a good supply of men is available so that no difficulty in this regard is expected. Cattle are in excellent condition and with the warmer weather and fairly ample moisture, pastures are coming along nicely. The condition of the horses on the range is reported to be somewhat poor, but they will pick up rapidly if the weather continues favorable. A species of worm known as the army cut-worm is appearing in some of the prairie districts and is doing considerable damage to the alfalfa crop. The army cut-worm only lasts one season, when it is destroyed by its natural enemies. A number of farmers have decided to hold off seeding until May 10th, after which date it is considered there is no further danger from this source. Seeding has begun at a number of points on the following subdivisions, MacLeod, Stirling, Bassano, Gleichen, Lacombe, Taber, Aldersyde, Red Deer, Langdon, Suffield, Irricana, Hardisty and Brooks.

J. O. Reid was a recent visitor to town from Aldridge. While he is still enthusiastic about his new location, reading under the surface, there is a suspicion in the editorial mind that J. O. will get more or less homesick even if he is near Calgary. This country has a strong grip on the affections of anyone who has lived here.

Seeding operations have progressed steadily during the week, although many are still cultivating and appear in no hurry to get the grain in the ground. The soil is in excellent condition with plenty of moisture in evidence.

Rev. and Mrs. Mosser are attending the Southern Alberta conference of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Missouri, Ohio and other states at Medicine Hat this week. They expect to be home on Friday.

Monday's high wind from the southwest was the first of these disagreeable days we have had for some time. Fortunately the wind lost its velocity towards evening. Seeding operations went on regardless.

For a year past there has been very little trouble from stock running at large. Everyone here hopes that the present council will continue the embargo on horses and cattle being at large in the village.

Work on the addition to Bert Gill's residence is proceeding rapidly in Contractor Boden's hands. When completed the improvement will be very noticeable in every way.

L. Granlin is decidedly the uncrowned king of the wood business in Champion. To look at his yard would lead to the conclusion Champion was situated in the woods.

L. A. Starek, of the Carman, Gay Sun, was a visitor in town on Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Loebach-Gutman

On Sunday, the 11th of April the wedding of Henry Loebach and Miss Marie Gutman took place at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Count Loebach.

The bride presented a beautiful picture, wearing a gown of white tulle and the bride veil. A large number of guests were present, and the ample home bore the decorations and marks of festivities everywhere.

It is understood the young couple will make their home in the Champion district, and their many friends hope to see them "happy ever after."

Business men of Canada are not a bit interested in the political exigencies of the customs inquiry. They want an exceedingly bad condition cleaned up. They are not going to let the facts to injure. Liberal government nor to bring some advantage to the Conservative party. House men have been paying customs charges on their importations and have had to face competition from low-priced smuggled goods brought into this country by rascals. The government has been robbed of millions, and regular business has been hurt to the extent of other millions by these nefarious operations. Business men, with the public in general, are asking that something be done to check the smuggling and to clean up the customs office that appear to have been in league with the dealers in illicit goods. This should not be a political matter. The Liberals should be asked and determined to do this house-cleaning and the Conservatives should do all that is possible to help. And in doing it both parties ought to have their minds upon the public good, not their eyes upon party advantage.—Calgary Herald.

Mr. Lee, who has been sick with the "flu," is around again, and little Brian, who has also been quite sick, is now better. The service at Champion on Sunday evening was conducted by Rev. N. E. Todd of Reid Hill, and the church was nicely filled for the occasion. The service was quite enjoyable.

According to the Alberta government crop report the prospects for a slight increase in the area in spring wheat and oats, with considerable increase in the southern districts of fodder corn and sweet clover. The percentage of fall plowing done was negligible, and the area planted to winter wheat and rye is small, although in one or two districts some large fields of both crops have been seeded.

The front of the Champion Meat Market building was painted and decorated during the week and now shines resplendent among less favored surroundings. More converts to the save the surface idea are needed.

The demand for seed corn this year would indicate a widely increased interest in this crop in Southern Alberta. Many farmers in this district will plant corn to try it out as a feed crop.

Every preparation is being made by local fishermen to be on the job as soon as the season opens on May 15th, and the fish want to look out very carefully after that date if they are wise.

The oil market is quiet awaiting another strike in the Turner Valley field. Stocks have weakened rapidly until the last day or two when there has been signs of improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Clever accompanied Fred Clever from Calgary this week, where the latter had been taking medical treatment. Mr. and Mrs. Clever will remain here for some time.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

It is some time since any political event was of such a pleasing character as the recent budget with its tax reductions. Naturally automobile manufacturers will not agree with this statement as a reduction in duty of fifteen per cent on low priced cars and seven and one half per cent on the more expensive kind will necessitate lower priced cars in Canada. To the people who are buying cars, however, this reduction seems a very reasonable one as it will help in removing the objectionable difference in price on the two sides of the international boundary. Changes in the income tax, the return to penny postage and abolishment of stamps on receipts are satisfactory to practically everyone as a distinct lowering of present taxes. The Dominion is now a long way in advance of Alberta, as while the budget has been balanced in this province, taxes are steadily increasing.

An examination of the figures with regard to the damage in timber in Canada could not fail to appal the most listless citizen. That this awful waste is due very largely to carelessness on the part of campers, hunters and settlers would lead to indignation against any person or persons whose actions contributed to the wholesale destruction that is going on.

Every indication points to the greatest influx of settlers into Canada during 1923 which has occurred for very many years. Conditions in this country have improved steadily until it has become extremely attractive to people seeking homes on their own land. Already large parties from England have arrived, while others are expected to leave shortly. Great interest in Canada has also developed in the United States and the settlement movement will undoubtedly reach large proportions during the summer. We had our hard times here but the future could not look more promising.

Some members of parliament fear the automobile industry in Canada will suffer severely from the reduction in the duty. Fortunately they are in the minority.

Cleanup operations have continued during the week and the improvements in appearance is decidedly gratifying. By May 1st there should be nothing left for the authorities to do in enforcing decent premises.

The report on the Alberta telephone system for 1922, published elsewhere in this issue, should convince the public of Alberta that phone rates are too low for the service rendered. Public ownership, to justify itself, must meet conditions squarely, and even if the rental tolls have to be increased, this should be recognised as a necessary condition. Against a debenture debt of almost $23,000, on a system commenced fourteen years ago, there is only a sinking fund of $816,493. $750,000 is provided in the 1923 estimates as capital for construction, while the estimated deficit for 1923 is $158,000.—John McKenzie in U. F. A.

The U. F. A. urges naturalization of all residents of Alberta, who are qualified to take out papers, before the provincial election. While this is meant for those who would prove government supporters it might well be taken into consideration by the older parties. There is no time to lose if anything is to be done in this direction.

Anyone who fishes in Alberta waters for pike, pickerel, perch or other game during the closed season from April 1 to May 1, is subject to severe penalty. Section 21 of the special fishery regulations says: "No one shall fish for, kill or catch any pike (jackfish), pickerel (Dore), perch or golieyes from the first day of April to the fifth day of May following both days inclusive." Under this section, it is pointed out the liability may extend to a fine of $1,000 and in default to imprisonment not to exceed 12 months.

Five hundred farm laborers from Central Europe were placed on farms in the Edmonton district in two days at the end of March. In every case the flow of immigration is being well taken care of in Alberta and there is little or no difficulty in finding work for those who are unable to take up farms of their own at the outset, at least through lack of money or lack of experience.

Feeds For Young Chicks

(Experimental Farms Note).

The feeds and methods of feeding outlined below have given excellent results at the Brandon Experimental Farms. The losses of young chicks have been remarkably low and rapid growth has been obtained. The young chicks are not given any food for at least thirty hours after coming out of the shell. The first meal consists of lukewarm water to drink and coarse sand or chick grit and granulated charcoal fed on small pieces of bread or cardboard. A few hours later a small quantity of finely cracked wheat or reliable, commercial chick feed is given in the same manner. Porridge oats are usually fed alternately with the above after the first meal.

Beginning with the third day the chick feed is fed in the litter of straw or cut straw in the brooder. Frequent feeding of small amounts keeps the chicks actively in search of food and has given the best results. It is the practice to feed six or seven times per day during the first ten days. A dry mash made up of a mixture of different meals is excellent for promoting rapid growth but care must be exercised in its use when the chicks are very young. The plan followed is to allow the young chicks access to the mash for about ten minutes three times on the sixth day and gradually increase the time and frequency of feeding until the chicks are ten days old.

old when it is safe to keep them before them continuously. The following mixture has proven very satisfactory as a dry mash: Bran 2 parts, middlings 2 parts, oat meal 2 parts, corn meal 0 parts, feedcrust 1 part and bone meal 1 part. Best results are obtained by feeding the hard chick feed first in the morning and then feeding alternately with the dry mash. The last feed in the evening is also chick feed. Chick grit and charcoal are kept before the chicks continuously when they are under favorable conditions. Butter milk has been found valuable, it is best fed sour and should be kept before them. Fresh green food, such as sprouted oats, is fed after the chicks are four or five days old.

Your Sheep Deserve Attention

As time goes on, progressive farmers are placing a higher valuation on the variety of sheep they raise and the care they are given. It is generally realized that a sheep raiser requires two crops per year—the lamb and the wool. All indications point to a well sustained return for lamb and wool due to the fact that consumption has of late overtaken production and prices being paid for wool, mutton and skins are, even now, most inviting.

Compare with other live stock sheep raising provides a profitable source of cash income. Early lambs can be made ready for market by June and when the wool is harvested and sold in June. A fully grown ewe is received at a season when most needed by the average farmer. There are many live stock where flocks of sheep have kept farmers in one continuous cycle of production. 65 lambs which when marketed averaged 66 pounds at the pound rate a total of $42.90. The wool clipped from the 65 ewes averaged a trifle over seven pounds per head and brought well over a $100.00 or a total of almost $800.00 from the flock of only 50 ewes.

Such a harvest, however, is not possible without a return by the owner. He must lay the foundation for a desirable ram and must have good basic value in the breed of sheep he is raising.

While there are more than 1,575,000 shewable sheep in Canada, only approximately 20,000 are pure-bred. Annually the number of pure-bred sheep increases in proportion to the total number of sheep, which is a desirable indication for a continuance of quality for years to come. The sheep owner realizes that only on pure-bred stock can he permanently profitable business in sheep raising. A close study of breeds most suitable to existing conditions and most advanced methods of feeding and care, always carries with it a large dividend in results obtained. Your sheep deserve good attention.

Putting Farm Work Horses in Condition

© Thomson & Thomson. Harvesting small grain in the great Northwest.

Progress in farm field work in the coming months depends largely on the condition of the work horses. Soft from the winter's rest, farm work horses require conditioning just as an athlete requires training for his test.

Every farmer knows that two or three weeks spent in a gradual toughening and conditioning of a horse for the heavy work is more than made up before the season of heavy field work is over. Not only does this conditioning include breaking them in to the long hours of hard pull that they must undergo, but applies as well to breaking them in to a working ration. It is poor practice to allow a horse to pasture on much new lush grass if he is to do so on a strenuous work schedule. A little grass is good for him, helps to condition him, but he must have oats, bran or old corn, or still better, a combination of the three and good sound hay. There are the best possible rations in the spring and early summer. The horse that is fed a smaller ration of grain soon gets soft, goes at profusely, lags and quickly plays out. Oats, bran, corn and hay will give him stamina and leave him

FIRE THREATENS OUR NATIONAL HERITAGE

Loss of standing timber by fire continues to be appalling. On the average, over 3,500 million board feet are destroyed annually. The forests of Canada are being depleted at a rate they cannot possibly withstand; more than half of this depletion is due to fire, insects and decay. The future of the forest industry is just as dependent on the seedling trees and young growth as the pulp and paper and lumber mills, and industry generally, are dependent on mature timber—both must be saved from the ravages of fire.

In addition to the shelter afforded by the forest to the farmer and his stock, settlers in forest regions are vitally dependent on the woods for winter employment. Care with fire in land-clearing operations is all-essential—burned timber pays no wages.

Canada has the finest inland fishing in the world, but these splendid food and game fish require clean, cold water in the streams to ensure prolific reproduction. Forest fires are inimical to fish life.

Game animals attract foreign tourists and induce Canadians to seek pleasure, health and adventure in the great outdoors. These animals are distinctly a forest resource—utterly dependent on it for protection and food. Forest fires are most destructive of such wild life.

Ninety per cent of the forest fires are caused by carelessness. Are you doing your part to prevent this wanton waste and destruction?

Convicts Whine Over Trifles

Modern "Bad Man" Not Old Hand

Convicts these days are not the old hard-boiled type of times past—men who were really tough and gloried in it and could take or give a blow with out any fuss.

The modern "bad man" is more the thorough tin and powder-puff variety who suffers from "nerves" and like to cry about it.

This is indicated in the latest prison report of the governor of Dartmoor. Prison which for generations has housed desperate criminals.

The present-day convict is far better educated than his brethren of olden days, "but the governor," but he is softer and more apt to whine over trifles. Anxieties are almost unknown, but petitions are becoming a cult.

For the twelve-month period ended February 28, exports reached a value of $1,297,744,695 and imports $1,017,465.

Children Looking For Work

190,000 in England Have Been Released From School

More than 190,000 British children who had attained the age of 14 were released from school and placed in the labor market which has little place for them.

In the past children were permitted to leave school on attaining the age of 14. This released them throughout the year, and it was possible for them to be absorbed in industry and commerce gradually.

Under the new system children who become 14 during a school term may not leave school until the end of that term. This makes so many applicants for positions the same time that employers may many of the children must necessarily remain idle for a considerable time before they can be absorbed into the industries.

What is Doing in the World of Radio

These totals are exclusive of harrigans and shopcoats and Indian moccasins.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 25

THE STORY OF GAIN AND ABEL

Golden Text: Am I my brother's keeper? Genesis 4:9.

Lesson: Genesis 4:1-26.

Devotional Reading: 1 John 4:16-21.

Explanations and Comments

I. The Occupations of Cain and Abel, verses 1, 2.—To Adam and Eve, two sons were born, Cain and Abel. The Hebrew word for "I have gotten," is Kainah whence our word Cain. Cain was a tiller of the ground, a husbandman, and Abel a keeper of sheep, a shepherd.

II. The Two Sacrificial Offerings, verses 25.—The two brothers brought each an offering to Jehovah. Cain's offering was the fruit of the ground; Abel's, the firstborn of his flock, the greatly-prized fat pieces of which were offered in sacrifice. Compare Lev. 1:3, 2:3. "The origin of sacrifice is not explained, nor is an altar mentioned. Man is assumed to be by nature endowed with religious impulses, and capable of holding converse with God. Worship was man's mode of approach to the Deity; and sacrifice was its outward expression" (Dr. Herbert E. Ryle). "From the time of Abel onwards, sacrifices are uniformly, and with increasing clearness, set before us as the appointed way of approaching and holding fellowship with God, till we have the sacrifice of our Saviour Jesus Christ."

Women Doctors Successful

Dame Louisa Aldrich-Dixie, whose will has been proved at over $38,000, was only one of several women doctors who have made fortunes in medicine. A woman doctor in Westminster is making an income of probably $23,000 a year. Medicine is much more profitable for women than law, for there must be at least half a dozen women doctors in London making $2,000 a year.

A man frequently loses interest in a subject as soon as his argument is exhausted.

Gov.-General's New Limousine

The Finest Car Ever Produced in the Dominion

The fact that the governor-general's new limousine, presented by Canadian war veterans, is the finest car ever produced in Canada is said to be largely due to the fact that this car was employed in the plant at Ottawa where the car was built, made a special drive on the job.

Everything for "Jing's" car not extra service and the man put the extra work into it as their contribution to Jing's gift. The presentation of the car was not the complete story, for the veterans have also provided for its insurance and even its transportation to London, when his excellency returns to the metropolis.

Perfect Strangers

Frank A. Munsey paid a glory about a feast that Jupiter gave to all the virtues. The virtues were very jolly and sociable at the feast, but two of them—two of the most beautiful of them—seemed ill and constrained in each other's presence. "Accordingly, Jupiter took the one virtue by the hand and led her to the other. 'Dear welcome,' he said—'your sister, Gratitude.' The two virtues were indeed astonished. This was the first time since the creation of the world that they had ever met."

Myers Is Acquitted

Manager of Bingo Mines Was Found Innocent of Charge

Winnipeg.—Joseph Myers, manager director of the Bingo Mines, Limited, was found not guilty by Mr. Justice Curran in the court of King's Bench. Mr. Myers was charged with making false statements with intent to defraud.

No evidence was offered by the defence after H. B. Graham, K.C., broke down the Crown's case in a close case. The case closed with dramatic suddenness. Several Crown witnesses who had been subpoenaed were not called to the witness box.

Al. along, R. A. Bonnar, K.C., former defence counsel, had argued that there was no evidence against Myers and made a counter-charge that Myers was being hounded to death. The trial lasted just eight days and all through the proceedings were marked with considerable liveliness.

Suggests Interim Report

Would Reassure Men Whose Business Suffered From Smuggling

Ottawa.—An interim report from the committee of the House of Commons which is investigating the conduct of the customs department would have a restorative effect upon Canadian business, George F. Henderson, K.C., suggested to the committee. Mr. Henderson is counsel for the Merchants Protective Association, and he thought that a report at the present time indicating the steps that had been taken to check smuggling would serve to reassure many business men who had suffered thereby.

Fear Forest Fires

Victoria.—With forests drying up during an unusually early period of warm, dry weather, and no relief in sight, officials of the provincial forestry service regard the forest fire situation on Vancouver Island with alarm. A lengthy period of drought, with high temperatures, is predicted by the Dominion Government weather bureau and if this forecast materializes the island may soon face the worst fire situation in its history.

Electricity Bridges Distance

New York.—Electricity culminated phases of distance in the meeting of the International Electro-Technical Commission, bringing the voice of Secretary of Commerce Hoover by telephone from Washington and the words of Lord Laibour by cable from London, to join the greetings of speakers of many nations.

Insolvency in Hungary

Budapest, Hungary.—An unprecedented wave of insolvency is sweeping Hungary. More than 1,000 business houses have failed since January 1.

Move Reindeer Closer To Alaskan Railroad

Lock of Marketing Facilities Menace
Living of Eskimo Herders

Anchorage, Alaska.—A reindeer drive which will take two years and for a spectacle rival the big trail movements of Texas herds in frontier days, will be undertaken in an effort to revivify an industry now menaced by lack of marketing facilities. Under the leadership of George Ashcroft many thousand head of reindeer, both government and privately-owned deer will be driven from the Arctic to Broad Pines on the Alaskan Railroad. The drive may be as large as 10,000.

A similar plan conceived two years ago by the bureau of education was abandoned for lack of funds.

Among the Eskimo who will participate are many skilled ivory carvers. They hope to create an Eskimo village near Cantwell, the centre of the southern reindeer industry. Mr. Ashcroft's plan is assembling a sort of Eskimo woman and opening a manufactory of bead and skin work.

Montreal.—"We have developed the technique of war, but we have never developed the technique of peace. Increase the purchasing power of a people and you will stimulate commerce and end unemployment. War brings about the opposite of a terrible aftermath," said Agnes MacPhail, M.P. for Southeast Grey, who addressed a meeting here.

"We have dressed up a grimacing monster in place of patriotism," she said. "War is made out to be the great adventure. We all react to military machine guns and the youth and the military training in all the great schools of Canada. We are each personally responsible for the thrusting of a military machine onto the youth and children of the country. There is a general feeling that it has some long and terrible aftermath."
